How They All Are.

GALLATIN, TENN., Nov. 9, 1895.—Miss Spencer, of Virginia, has been compelled to retire from the Faculty of Howard Female College on account of failing health. To take her place Prof. Hubbard has been so fortunate as to secure the services of Miss Carrie Smith, of Nashville, who recently returned from a year's study of vocal music, physical culture and the French language in Paris. Miss Smith teaches four days of the week in Howard College and two days at her studies in Nashville and sings on Sundays at Tulip street church.

Mrs. Hubbard is recovering from an attack of fever, which lasted during the month of October. Her health continues bad.

Miss Laura MacAnally expects to spend the winter with her mother in Philadelphia. She is convalescent after a severe attack of typhoid fever.

Engene Hubbard, of the Boatmen's Bank, St. Louis, took his bed on Thursday last with a temperature of 103, but was slightly improved at last accounts. His health has been poor since the early spring.

Arthur Hubbard got a promotion on the first of November and is still greatly pleased with the Hargadine-McKittick dry goods company of St. Louis.

Heavy rains in Middle Tennessee, which were very much needed. Trade is picking up. Everybody disgusted with politics. The democrats can saw wood now.

—Maj. L. C. Norman, who served as chairman of the democratic State campaign committee, believes that the republicans will remain in power in Kentucky until the people tire of their rule, and that the State will go republican next year. Certainly it will if any thing is wrong at Frankfort.

—Fireman Love was killed and Engineer Corbett perhaps fatally hurt by a collision on the L. & N., near Franklin, Tenn.

How to Prevent Croup.

Some readers that will prove interesting to young mothers. How to guard against the disease. Croup is a terror to young mothers and to post those concerning the cause, first symptoms and treatment is the object of this item. The origin of croup is a common cold. Children who are subject to it take cold very easily and croup is almost sure to follow. The first symptom is hoarseness; this is soon followed by a peculiar rough cough, which is easily recognized and will never be forgotten by one who has heard it. The time to act is when the child first becomes hoarse. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given all tendency to croup will soon disappear. Even after the croupy cough has developed it will prevent the attack. There is no danger in giving this remedy for it contains nothing injurious. For sale by Craig & Hocker, Stanford, Ky.

The widow Mr. Leonard Wells, of East Brimfield, Mass., had been suffering from neuralgia for two days, not being able to sleep or hardly keep still, when Mr. Holden, the merchant there sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and asked that she give it a thorough trial. On meeting Mr. Wells the next day he was told that she was all right, the pain having left her within two hours, and that the bottle of Pain Balm was worth $5.00 if it could not be had for less. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by Craig & Hocker, Stanford, Ky.

It is hoped by the friends of both parties that the unpleasantness is at an end between the two men.

—At the rally Friday night there were torch light processions and three bands in attendance, besides many enthusiastic republicans and some sick democrats. There were three speeches from the stand erected in central park. Hon. John W. Yerkes, of Danville, Judge G. M. Davidson, of Stanford, and Lewis L. Walker, oldest son of Judge William E. Walker, recently elected representative of this county on the democratic ticket.

Lewis Walker has surprised his friends here by the strong, enthusiastic stand he has recently taken for the republican party. He renounced his faith in democracy and avowed his strong allegiance to republicanism.

Ben Lee Hardin expresses our sentiments as to the infamous secret ballot, though in more high-sounding language than any but a born artist in the use of words could do.

"The gaudy and foolish of timid democrats hypochondriac with numerous republicans known as the new constitution, which gives license to towards in exercising the right of suffrage, is the sole cause of power being transferred to a faction largely composed of those who have no interest in our State's glory and welfare. The secret ballot is the attitude which buries its poisoned point in the vitals of a virtuous and manly sovereignty, and until this provision is wiped from our books, the shaft of ignorance and cupidity will have the ascendancy over Kentucky chivalry."

—A dispatch from Frankfort says: As for Senator Blackburn, he is mad, and no amount of sympathy which his friends can bestow on him will restore his good humor. He refuses to talk for publication, but to a friend here a day or two ago he declared that the relentless war on him by those who opposed him was something unheard of in the history of American politics, and he openly announced that for some time to come he would be a participant in politics only to the extent of using his long political knife on his enemies. It is said that the Senator raved over the subject in a perfectly uncontrollable manner, and denounced in the most bitter and scathing terms those who contributed to his defeat.

—James O. Matthews, colored, was elected judge of the recorder's court at Albany, N. Y., on the democratic ticket.

KIDD'S STORE.

—Arbor day was observed by the students of Riffe College in outskirts of our city, as a holiday so far as books and lessons count, but they studied the campus with a variety of selected shade and ornamental trees.

—Your Hustonville editor was cliche in pastoral work, Thursday last, dispensing comfort to the disappointed and distressed, and illustrating by a smiling cheerfulness and philosophic resignation the absurdity of crying over spilt-milk.

—The exultation of victory in wood-splitting yells and deafening detonations are all right of course, but let it be whisped that your humble scribe is not the only lonesome listener who would recognize melody in a different brand of powder and different complexioned operators of the festival.

—Notices of Billy Stagz and Jim Wright's funerals have not been issued but we understand that the form will be locked and printing rushed as soon as the dates are furnished. Jess Riffe was stricken Wednesday. At first, thought dangerously, but is reported much improved Friday morning by a fake telegram, which claimed that Bradley is not elected.

—Some deft-fingered appropriator of the loosely stored traps lifted James Simpson's buggy rug last week before the moon had entered protest against operations of thieves. Tom Price's buggy-house on immediate roadside seemed to suggest a completion of the outfit, but some interposition saved the buggy at expense of only the top, which was skillfully removed—from even the county so far as known.

—Well, we are again impressed with the propriety of going out of the neighborhood to obtain information of what's going on at home. A wife-whipping blacksmith is in our city! Whisper that if you know that it is a fact, for there is much about now to revive reminiscences of the inquisition. Truth will float to the surface, however deep the well into which she may be flung.

—Some of our innocents who were minute in explanations of a sadly demoralized exchequer, whilst they were taking in the G. A. R. festivities, modestly expressed all reference to the sure thing (?) they stumbled on in their first encounter with three card monte. Friends who furnished change to pay their camp expenses probably still think that pick pockets touched the victims. Names furnished on application.

—The McKinney correspondent you blister in last issue was right, so far as rumor goes, except in the immaterial detail that Hon. B. B. King's back was wrenched getting on his horse instead of in falling off. The worry and natural wear and tear of an active canvass found Ben about frazzled on election day, but who wouldn't have been chirrupy as a worn next day when returns showed him a winner in face of what would have been killing odds against any one but a favorite of the gods?

—Boyle Stone, of Liberty, had gotten as far as this place Friday, as general traveling agent of a museum hunting freaks. His especial meat now is a Kenz tucky democrat whose under jaw isn't hanging at a drop which suggests a wind-dw of a blacksmith shop. If he can find any individual capable of successfully simulating a sickly smile who has cheek enough to pose as a democrat Boyle has a job awaiting him. May the good Lord smile on Boyle's noble mission. I can't smile. Though not dead, democracy certainly sleepeth very soundly.

A Wall from Alabama.

To the Editor of the Interior Journal. MONTGOMERY, ALA., Nov. 9.—Poor old Kentucky, you have gone back on your principle, and the grand old "democratic party" that has built you up, and made you what you are. Your politics is now as black as a native born African, you are to be pitied in your downfall, and straying off after strange Gods, and no doubt but what you will be well cursed in your downward course. Shame on you for laying aside the white man's principle, and going blindfolded into a party that will cause you grief and shame. Am afraid you have bit off your nose to spite your face.

The INTERIOR JOURNAL states that for 40 years the state was democratic, look how you were blessed during those 40 years, and how happy and prosperous you were. You have the wide world reputation as growing the finest women, her equal cannot be found on the globe, and also for raising fine stock and whiskey. You are equal to the "Land of Promise" in many respects.

Ye prodigals should return to the democratic fold, repent and be baptized with the democratic tears, you will then live happily together on the fatted calf of your land.

Be more watchful in the future, and do not let the "wolf" in the sheep's clothing enter into your fold, and destroy your peace and happiness.

—The next Ladies' Home Journal will contain the opening chapters of Mary Anderson de Navarro's stage career memoirs.

—Walter Billings, of Lowell, Mass., was killed and almost decoupled by a tame bear that he had owned and trained since it was a cub.

—Wesley Mines, of Lewis county, was driven crazy by the loss of his vote. He mistook the prohibition device for that of the republican party.

—J. W. Cadman, a relative of President Cleveland's wife, died at Chicago of a bullet wound, self-inflicted, during a spell of despondency.

—The judges of the court of appeals has decided that Judge-elect George DuRelle should qualify as soon as he receives his commission.

—President Cleveland is said to regard the recent defeat of the party not as an uprising against the democrats, but as a revolt against party bosses.

—In a freight wreck on the Kentucky Central, near Mildred, Henry Huttsell, in charge of a string of horses, was killed and the freeman fatally injured.

—At a dance at Nebraska City, Neb., Tom Maher fatally shot Miss Maude Fessler because she was preparing to go home under the escort of another man.

—J. H. Hayes shot and killed Michael and Henry Harper, near Birmingham, Ala., in a fight which was caused by the refusal of the Harpers to pay their rent.

—W. E. G. Ellison, aged 65, a well-known citizen of Charleston, W. Va., committed suicide by drowning himself in the Kanawha river. Bad health was the cause.

—A Western paper says that during the last 30 days more than 200 head of cattle have died in Western Kansas from eating second growth sorghum, which is rank poison.

—A hold-over democratic Senator said at Frankfort that if the republicans undertake to unseat democrats in the House he would favor a resort to similar tactics by the democratic majority in the Senate.

—Near Winston, N. C., an insane father named Keed, attacked his daughter with a knife cutting her throat from ear to ear. He then seized an ax and buried the blade in her body, killing her instantly.

—Wm. Newman was hung at Little Rock, Ark., for the murder of his wife, whose body was found in a creek. His arrest grew from his protest without being accused: "Before God I never murdered my wife."

—The board of lady commissioners for Kentucky at the Atlanta Exposition held a meeting at Lexington and declared a vacancy in the position of president, held by Mrs. Cantrell, and elected Mrs. Sallie Humphrey Chenault to the position.

—Miss Vinnie Miller, a Spencerville, O., belle, is at the point of death from blood poisoning. She trimmed a corn on one of her toes till it bled and put on a pair of black hose. The coloring in the hose is supposed to have caused the trouble.

—The South Carolina constitutional convention has incorporated in the constitution a section holding sheriffs responsible for prisoners taken from their custody and lynched. The penalty is to be removal from office and ineligibility to hold office in future.

—The Frankfort Capital says: The sudden resignation of Col. Galtier, of the second regiment, together with all the commissioned and other officers of the company at Harrodsburg, indicates that these good democrats and soldiers don't propose to serve Kentucky under a republican administration.

KID'S STORE.

—Arbor day was observed by the students of Rifle College in outskirts of our city, as a holiday so far as books and lessons count, but they studied the campus with a variety of selected shade and ornamental trees.

—Your Hustonville editor was active in pastoral work, Thursday last, dispensing comfort to the disappointed and distressed, and illustrating by a smiling cheerfulness and philosophic resignation the absurdity of crying over spilt milk.

—The exultation of victory in wood-splitting yells and deafening detonations are all right of course, but let it be whispered that your humble scribe is not the only lonesome listener who would recognize melody in a different brand of powder and different complexioned operators of the festival.

—Notices of Billy Stagg and Jim Wright's funerals have not been issued, but we understand that the form will be locked and printing rushed as soon as the dates are furnished. Jess Riffe was stricken Wednesday. At first, thought dangerously, but is reported much improved Friday morning by a fake telegram, which claimed that Bradley is not elected.

—Some delf-fingered appropriator of the loosely stored traps lifted James Simpson's buggy rug last week before the moon had entered protest against operations of thieves. Tom Price's buggy-house on immediate roadside seemed to suggest a completion of the outfit, but some interposition saved the buggy at expense of only the top, which was skillfully removed—from even the county so far as known.

—Well, we are again impressed with the propriety of going out of the neighborhood to obtain information of what's going on at home. A wife-whipping blacksmith is in our city! Whisper that softly if you know that it is a fact, for there is much about now to revive reminiscences of the inquisition. Truth will float to the surface, however deep the well into which she may be flung.

—Some of our innocents who were minute in explanations of a sadly demoralized exchequer, whilst they were taking in the G. A. R. festivities, modestly expressed all reference to the sure thing (!) they stumbled on in their first encounter with three card monte.

—Friends who furnished change to pay their camp expenses probably still think that pick pockets touched the victims. Names furnished on application.

—The McKinney correspondent you blister in last issue was right, so far as rumor goes, except in the immaterial detail that Hon. B. B. King's back was wrenched getting on his horse instead of in falling off. The worry and natural wear and tear of an active canvass found Ben about frazzled on election day, but who wouldn't have been chirrupy as a wren next day when returns showed him a winner in face of what would have been killing odds against any one but a favorite of the gods?

—Boyle Stone, of Liberty, had gotten as far as this place Friday, as general traveling agent of a museum hunting freaks. His special meat now is a Ken2 tucky democrat whose under jaw isn't hanging at a drop which suggests a window of a blacksmith shop. If he can find any individual capable of successfully simulating a sickly smile who has cheek enough to pose as a democrat Boyle has a job awaiting him. May the good Lord smile on Boyle's noble mission. I can't smile. Though not dead, democracy certainly sleazebath very soundly.

A Wall from Alabama.

To the Editor of the Interior Journal.
MONTGOMERY, ALA., Nov. 9.—Poor old Kentucky, you have gone back on your principle, and the grand old "democratic party" that has built you up, and made you what you are. Your politics is now as black as a native born African, you are to be pitied in your downfall, and straying off after strange Gods, and no doubt but what you will be well cursed in your downward course. Shame on you for laying aside the white man's principle, and going blindfolded into a party that will cause you grief and shame. Am afraid you have bit off your nose to spite your face.

The INTERIOR JOURNAL states that for 40 years the state was democratic, look how you were blessed during those 40 years, and how happy and prosperous you were. You have the wide world reputation as growing the finest women, her equal cannot be found on the globe, and also for raising fine stock and whiskey. You are equal to the "Land of Promise" in many respects.

Ye prodigals should return to the democratic fold, repent and be baptized with the democratic tears, you will then live happily together on the fatted calf of your land.

Be more watchful in the future, and do not let the "wolf" in the sheep's clothing enter into your fold, and destroy your peace and happiness.

The republicans have the House by a majority of six, but on joint ballot it has 63 votes to the democrats 69, with two populists to hold the balance of power, until the republicans unseat a sufficient number of democrats to give them plain sailing. Already a number of contests have been spoken of, several on the flimsiest grounds, but taking the action of the party in Congress as their cue the rats went care for law or justice, when they go in to create a majority. Of course Joe Blackburn stands no more chance for re-election than a snow ball does to retain its shape in hades, but he is cavorting around claiming that he will succeed himself. Having done more than all other men combined to get us in the present condition, his play now is to attempt to secure the democratic nomination as a vindication of his course. But the best laid plans of mice and men gang aft agley and Joseph Clay Stiles Blackburn will find again that it won't do to tempt fate too much. The silver business and Joseph are as dead as door nails, and for these blessings, let us give thanks.

SENATOR QUAY, of Pennsylvania, is said to have put up a considerable part of the sinews of war for Gov. Bradley and that he favors him for candidate for vice-president, on the ticket with Reed at its head. Col. New is said to be for him with Harrison at the head and others with McKinley and so on. There seems to be a considerable divergence of opinion as to the proper man to head the ticket, but all seem to agree that Gov. Bradley shall fly as tall to the kite. There is no republican in the world whom we had rather see nominated than he, and none whom we would rather see elected if a republican is destined for that honor. Gov. Bradley has fought valiantly for every inch of ground that he has won and demonstrated that he is no ordinary individual, but a born leader of men and a man of affairs.

AUDITOR NORMAN will have till Jan. 1 to get ready to turn over the books to Mr. Samuel H. Stone. Some of the democratic officials at Frankfort will have to walk the plank Dec. 10 and there will be weeping, wailing and gnashing of teeth among the clerks, who have been raised to believe that the earth was theirs and the fulness thereof. The voters said very unmistakably Tuesday that they wanted to stop all that talk about a Frankfort ring, which dictated and made nominations, a self-perpetuating oligarchy as it were. But we believe that it is only a step from the frying pan into the fire. There will soon be a republican ring there to which the so-called democratic ring will not be able to hold a candle.

WHEN fortune smiles all the world stands ready to do the recipient honor, while nobody cares for the man who gets left. Gov.-elect Bradley received over 1,000 congratulatory telegrams, but if anybody thought to send or say a word of consolation and comfort to poor Watt Hardin, the fact does not appear of record. But come to think of it he doesn't deserve either. He staked his fate on a 50-cent dollar and lost. Henceforth his name is Dennis. Let his fate be a warning to others who imagine themselves bigger than their party.

It is more than probable that if the democrats ever honor Watt Hardin again, which is improbable, he will accept the judgment of the whole as a rule of action, and not think that all the wisdom of the world is tied up in himself, Blackburn and the Thompsons. His suicidal course can be attributed to no other cause than his delusive belief that he and they knew it all and the rest of us were arrant fools.

MR. JOHN W. YERKES announces positively that he will not be a candidate for United States Senator. He doubtless thinks he has a dead sure thing in running for Congress in this district and he will represent it at Washington, unless there is a big change from Tuesday's vote. The district would have gone republican in 1894 had any other democrat run except Gov. McCreary.

W. B. HUDSON, aware of the fact that the "come-to-stay" papers at Barbourville pestered out "pretty quick already," has launched on the journalistic sea a journal, which he calls the Experiment. He doesn't claim the earth, nor make promises he can not perform, and his modesty ought to be rewarded with a big subscription list and plenty of good paying "ads."

BLACKBURN said in Washington several months ago that either he or a republican would be the next Senator from Kentucky and in view of all the facts, a large majority of people, good democrats too, would prefer the fulfillment of the latter part of his prophecy.

ADMINISTRATIONS may change and men may come and men may go, but the INTERIOR JOURNAL goes on forever promulgating party principles and preaching pure and undefiled religion. Now is the time to subscribe.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL can corroborate the Louisville Times' grape vine dispatches that as soon as there were indications that the republicans had carried the Legislature, the Hon. A. E. Wilson, of that city, began to make the telegraph wires hum with congratulatory messages, at 25 cents apiece, to the members-elect all over the State. We saw one to Hon. B. B. King, who will be the member from Lincoln, which read as follows: "Warmest congratulations. Bradley's majority 10,000 and Legislature republican on joint ballot. Augustus E. Wilson." The Times adds that it has a pointer, however, from the rural districts that the members are opposed to making a United States Senator of a horse with so much white in his eyes and whose mane hangs on both sides. There will be no dearth of candidates for the honor. Dr. W. Godfrey Hunter has announced himself, and the woods are full of those who are standing in hopes of having the lightning strike them. Hunter, however, seems to have the pull and if hard work, a good deal of it dirty besides, is to be rewarded, he is the man for the place.

THERE is one consolation left us in these days of darkness and defeat. The Kentucky Senate is democratic by a good margin, and Col. Bradley can not put a single man into an office of importance without its consent, nor can the republicans pass a law or repeal one without its co-operation. Neither can they gerrymander the State, nor do any other devilment, which they would attempt, but for this fortunate restraint. Things are mighty blue generally, but they are not so bad that they may not have been worse and we are in condition now to be thankful for any kind of a favor.

If the reporter to the Louisville Commercial is to be believed, it takes a mighty little to create a "great sensation" at Lancaster, when the dropping of a youth to fortune and to fame unknown causes one. If a man chooses to change his politics, and some people seem to do so as easily as they do their shirts, especially when there is pie in sight, we see no necessity of getting excited about it. As the Courier-Journal suggests, if such a thing produces so great a sensation in Lancaster, what would the people do if somebody's setter should have pups?

THE republican who went crazy because he stamped under the phoenix instead of the log cabin, certainly failed to attend the kindergartens of his party. Bess Davison, or the Gray Gilding, as he is called, didn't let any of his pupils make such a break. The republicans may not vote as intelligently as the democrats, but they usually know how to fix their ballots so they will count.

It is said that Mr. Samuel J. Roberts of the Lexington Leader, wants to be insurance commissioner. He is too good a newspaper man to get spoiled in the flesh pots of office, but if he really desires the place, Col. Bradley should see that Auditor Stone gives it to him. No man working harder or did more for the republican ticket than Sam Roberts and he ought to be given first cut of the pie.

AND now it is said that Gov. Brown is thinking of pardoning Dick Tate so that he can come home and tell about his steal. It's too late now. People have gotten so well satisfied that others were implicated in it, that the oath of a thief can't change their belief. Besides his defalcation has done all the harm it can now to the party and to all concerned.

THE Middletown News nominates William O'Connell Bradley for president of the United States and David Grant Colson for U. S. Senator. The woodcock is kept so busy making his usual remark these days that he doesn't find time to fly away. Both men may eventually get there, but they must tarry awhile in Jericho till their beards be grown.

GEORGE DENNY, of Lexington, has announced himself a candidate for the U. S. Senate, which shows he has mighty little faith in his chances to be seated in the next Congress, even by a partisan body clothed with the power. He has all to gain and nothing to lose by the contest, however. He'll get $2,000 for expenses any way.

A COLORED doctor at Frankfort is securing endorsements for appointment as penitentiary physician and other colored citizens are making a dash for the pie. Col. Bradley ought to remember them handsomely. He would never have been governor-elect but for his nigger friends.

CHARLIE MOORE, the hairy heathen of the Blue Grass Blade, was convicted in the U. S. court of sending obscene matter through the mails, but on his promise to go and sin no more, Judge Barr held up sentence till February, and permitted the old sinner to give hand in $1,000.

THE crop of embryo statesmen in this district, who were beginning to hear the Congressional bee buzzing in their little bonnets, was considerably bitten by the frost of November 5th. This Congressional district went republican by about 2,000 and the judicial by 602.

THERE are some hopes, but they are slim, that Tyler has more votes than Worthington for lieutenant governor, as the latter ran away behind Bradley and Tyler got more votes than Hardin in many counties.

THERE is a bare chance that Geo. H. Alexander is elected railroad commissioner and we truly hope his figures are correct, which give him 500 to 700 majority. His election would be especially gratifying, since he was fought so savagely by the A. P. A., because he is a Catholic.

It now appears that Col. Bradley's plurality will not exceed 10,000, but that's enough, God knows.

Election Echo.

—Fayette went for free turnpikes by a large majority.

—The vote for free turnpikes in Garrard was 1,157 for to 693 against.

—Pulaski gave Bradley 1,666 majority. Hardin ran 502 behind Cleveland. Pulaski is Bradley's birth place.

—Bradley carried Madison by 271. Bennett by 477 and Burnam 480. Bennett beat Goodloe in the district 1,050.

—James Breathitt, a republican, beat Judge Linn, Gov. Brown's appointee, for circuit judge in the Hopkinsville district.

—Jackson county, where there is a usual republican majority of from 600 to 800, comes forward with a republican majority this time of 1,125.

—Hon. E. Tutt Burnam, republican of Madison county, is being talked of as a probable candidate for speaker of the lower branch of the Legislature.

—Judge Simrall, the bolting democratic candidate for judge of the court of appeals in the Louisville district, only got 1,200 votes. He did not deserve any.

—Bradley's majority in Casey county is 381; Grider's majority (rep.) for Legislature, 240. Grider seems to have been elected over T. J. Ballock by over 500 majority. He is a Baptist preacher.

—Blanford, of Breckinridge; Lyons, of Campbell, and Burnam, of Madison, are the republican representatives-elect most prominently mentioned for the speakership of the House of Representatives.

—This is what a rabid free paper now says: Now that it is all over, Watt Hardin should never have accepted the nomination, and Joe Blackburn gave him good advice when he urged him to decline it. —Elizabethtown News.

—Woodford G. Dunlap, republican candidate for the Legislature from Lexington, was beaten by Kaufman (dem.) by 126 votes. —Helm contest the latter's election alleging fraud in two precincts, which required 14 hours to count, and gave big democratic majorities.

—The vote of the city hall precinct in Richmond, which gave Hardin 89 and Bradley 229, was thrown out because the clerk failed to indorse the ballots, but the republican county committee will institute mandamus proceedings to compel the count of this vote. It counts two votes in the republican convention and one vote in the democratic convention.

No public sales were made but Bronough & Herrin bought 10 head of 1,000 cattle at 24c, and Dan Holman disposed of several head of butcher stuff at 3c. The horse market was very dull, only a few plugs changing hands at 13 to 29.

—The statue of "Our Lady of Prompt Succor" in the Ursuline convent at New Orleans was so crowned Sunday with a diadem of gold and jewels worth many thousand dollars. Ten thousand people witnessed the coronation.

DON'T you need extra knives, forks or spoons? Remember everything goes at reduced prices. A beautiful selection of rings too. Come and look them over, Penny's Drug and Jewelry Store.

P. W. GREEN remembered many of his friends with printed invitations to the opening of his big new Lexington saloon—"The Turf," 18 North Limestone—last night. An oyster and omelette supper was to follow.

R. R. NOEL & SON give full weights and sell coal at a profit of one cent a bushel. They are finding it a losing business, however, and unless our people want to drive them out of business they should give them a liberal patronage.

SOLD.—J. B. TOSTER concluded the sale of the land of the late J. M. Reid yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Reid take the 250 acres north of the lane, including the improvements, at $60 and J. C. Reid takes the 50 acres south of the lane at $50.

A GOOD rain followed the unusually warm season of several days and a cold snap has followed the rain, making yesterday a very disagreeable one, being cold and drear—a typical November day. Generally fair, warmer Tuesday, was today's prediction.

PEOPLE who want to go to the Atlanta exposition from here are practically cut off. If you go by Knoxville you have to spend two nights out, besides lying over a day there and unless you drive to the O. S. you can not make connection with any train South and only the slow one will stop in this section.

GARRARD county has done more than her part in furnishing governors for Kentucky. She might well have rested on her laurels with Letcher and Owsley, without giving us Col. Billy O. Two is company and three is a crowd.

Gov. BOB TAYLOR and his brother, Alf, are now lecturing together on "Yankee Doodle and Dixie," and they furnish an evening of genuine entertainment. The managers of the Opera House here are figuring for a date with them during the winter.

Dr. E. P. BRIDGES, the painless dentist, who has made a big reputation here, is advertised to come again and spend the week of Nov. 25-30. If you want the old snags taken out of your mouth, almost without your knowing it, call on him when he comes.

A DISSENTING democrat says the party deserved all it got and more, for putting Norman, in whose office rottenness was alleged, at the head of the campaign. Come to think of it the mistakes of the campaign by the democrats were many more than Ingersoll attributes to Moses.

The attention of those who give worthless checks, especially those who have given them to us, is called to the fact that W. B. Percival, of Bell county, has just been taken to Knoxville in irons for issuing a check and getting the money, when he had no credit in the bank. He will likely do time in the penitentiary, where all of his class will land if they keep on.

COUNTY JUDGE APPOINTMENTS.—In the excitement of election week, we failed to answer a legal question propounded by our Hustonville correspondent as to the status of affairs when a town fails to elect trustees. The sitting board holds till the county judge appoints its successors. So Hustonville is doomed to republican rule, worse even than that the stars should fall or the moon turn to blood for "anarchy and confusion will reign supreme and everything go to the demiliton bow-wow."

HON. J. N. SANDERS has been appointed a member of the Railroad Commission to succeed C. C. McChord, who resigned on being elected to the State Senate. The appointment is till December 16, when the newly elected officers will take charge. The pay is at the rate of $2,000 a year and some expenses paid, so it will be seen that our worthy townsman will get a few hundred dollars in addition to the high honor bestowed on him of which he is highly deserving. The selection is a good one and we voice the sentiment of the entire community when we congratulate both the giver and the receiver.

CIRCUIT COURT.—The case of Alex Rice, for the murder of Simon Higgins, was submitted to the jury at 11 o'clock Friday, after two days trial, and in 20 minutes a verdict fixing his punishment at 21 years in the penitentiary was returned. Nine of the jurors were for the death penalty.

Judge Sandley certified to the governor the arrest and conviction of Alex Rice and Lee Smith and Henry Carter will receive the $200 reward for his capture. We have heard nothing further of the private reward said to have been offered by friends of the deceased.

The grand jury only returned 12 indictments this term the smallest number in years, and all were for minor offenses save one.

In the suit of Jim Mullins against Sam Cochran for $250 damages for refusal to let him have the land he rented after he had laid the crop the jury gave the darkey $100.

The appeal case of The London Manufacturing Co., of which Mr. J. C. McKee is president, against Ben C. Martin resulted in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for a little over $120.

Jailer F. M. Shumate appeared in court yesterday with Marshal Frank Ellis, who killed young Murphy at Junction City, and his case was called. The prosecution, which will be assisted by Hon. John W. Yerkes, announced ready, but the defense swore to the absence of material witnesses and a continuance was granted till February. Ellis was returned to the Boyle jail. He was represented by Messrs. Breckinridge, Welch and Warren.

Judge Sandley, thinking there were sufficient grounds to warrant the belief that the negro Alex Rice would be lynched if he stayed here, passed sentence on him and Jim Tass yesterday and ordered Sheriff Newland to take them to the penitentiary.

We have bought your Xmas present. Next week we will show it to you. Danks, the jeweler.

COURT days are fast playing out in this part of Kentucky. No business is done at them now worth speaking of and the crowds are usually composed of men who have nothing to do at home and no money to spend abroad.

Thieves got in their work on Prof. F. J. Duffy the other night. They broke into the academy building and stole his clock, dueters and brooms, but left the books untouched. No clue yet, but a sleuth hound is on their track.

NEGRO SHOOTING.—A dispatch from Mt. Vernon Saturday says: In a difficulty here to day between Scott Fish on one side and Richard Mullens and Dan McLean on the other, negroes, Fish was shot twice in the neck, twice in the stomach and once in the arm, and will die. The trouble originated over a thrashing Fish gave his wife, who is Mullens's sister.

THE republicans tried to get up a celebration at Hustonville, Saturday night, but the rain and the small boy made monkeys of them. A log cabin was built on a wagon and two hungry coons were placed on top of it, but it made a poor show in the rain and mud. The boys were all hallooing for Bradley, but would add, "we mean George Bradley," who is a town boy.

MISS KATE BLAIN, who thinks it was purposely held up till after the election, received a letter from the superintendent of public instruction, under date of the 6th, saying that the money has been so temporarily received in the treasury that he was unable to send the 20 per cent. due teachers on the 6th. Whatever part of his warrant that can be honored on the 11th, he promised to send for disbursement on the 16th. Miss Blain gave us this information for last issue but it escaped our memory.

MR. JAMES JONES, of Crab Orchard, sends us word that he was sworn in as deputy marshal on the day Dr. Wall was killed by a pistol, which fell from his pocket, and that he had been given the pistol only a few moments before the accident. Mr. Jones is a nephew of the late Joe Jones, instead of a brother, as our last issue stated. Mr. Jones' friends speak of him in the highest terms and say that he is far from being guilty of the foolish habit of carrying concealed weapons, and we cheerfully give him the benefit of this statement.

HANDSOME and brainy John W. Yerkes was here yesterday and on being asked why he did not enter the scramble for U. S. Senate, he said: "I do not suppose that there is a man in the state who would not accept such an honor as that exalted office, but really I haven't got the cheek to offer myself for it even if my chances were surer than they could possibly be under the circumstances." Such modesty is as beautiful as it is rare in politicians, and it ought to be rewarded, but it won't. Cheek and gall get there while modest merit usually fails to be recognized.

Total.

Majorities.

It will be seen that the official count as given above varies from our report in last issue but one vote. We gave Col. Bradley 99 majority when it should be 98.

For governor Pettit got only 9 votes and Demaree 133.

In the race for railroad commissioner Alexander received 1,427 votes and Irwin 1,597, majority 170 for Irwin.

For lieutenant governor R. T. Tyler received 1,443 votes, Worthington 1,579, Blair 18 and Hughes 108. The rest of the respective tickets ran about that way throughout.

The official returns from Boyle show that Bradley's majority is only 157, instead of 186 as reported. W. J. Price had no opposition for circuit clerk but received the full vote, while John B. Nichols for county clerk beat the pop candidate 1,155.

The reason that Hardin has more votes than the rest of the ticket is because ballots marked under the rooster and in the square opposite his name were only counted for him, when it was the evident intention of the voter to include the whole democratic ticket, and according to learned lawyers, ought to have been so counted. A good many republican ballots were stamped under the rooster and in Bradley's square and they were counted only for him.

—Perry Watkins, an Alabama mine boss, in defending himself against an attack, killed one miner, mortally wounded another and slightly wounded a third.

—Senator Quay declares the report that he had assisted Gorman and Brice to be false and malicious. He also indignantly denies that he has assisted "any other democrat."

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—A Louisville judge granted six divorces at one sitting, all to women.

—Cicero Lay, 21, and Miss Malinda J. Oaks, 22, were married Friday near Crab Orchard.

—W. L. Austin and Miss Edmonia Gibson Stagg were married at Harrodsburg last week.

—Miss Mary Elizabeth Snyder, a sister of Mrs. James T. Carson, will be married at Anchorage on the 14th to Mr. Edward Hobbs Sherley.

"The Widow Jones who has buried five husbands, has purchased a lot near the cemetery, where she will soon erect a neat cottage. She is an enterprising woman."—Atlanta Constitution.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Rev. J. P. Halsey will begin a protracted meeting at Walnut Flat next Friday evening. Services will commence at 6:30 p. m.

—The Rev. William E. Hinchshaw has been received at the Jeffersonville prison to serve a life sentence for the murder of his wife.

—The Christian church's receipts reported at the general convention in Dallas, Texas, were $83,514.03, a gain of $10,255.87 over last year.

—Rev. T. H. Campbell has just closed a successful meeting at McKinney. There were eight additions to the church one of them being an old man 80 years of age.—Lancaster Record.

—"Uncle" Joe Hopper, who conducted the revival services at the First Presbyterian church has closed the meetings. Seventeen were added to the membership of that and other churches in the city as the result of the services.—Harrodsburg Sayings.
